

WWI Comouflage and V-mail panels have been installed in the North Gallery. The four new panels for the addition are Service Flag (Blue & Gold), Army Rank insignia, Army Units panel and Army Field Artillery Organization panel. He has also completed copies of the Civil War Table of Fire for both Soldier instruction and the gun crew demonstrations.

Frocking (promotion) ceremony for SGM Ingram and SGM McFarland second part could be a challenge.

On 29 June the museum hosted a double Sergeants Major frocking ceremony and reception for SGM Ingram and SGM McFarland. We welcome such ceremonies in the museum.

Last, but most important the museum's new addition was finally blessed on 18 June. However before anything can be moved in, exhibit and diorama work begun we have to install track lighting and the Department of Public Works (DPW) needs to run conduit for the new alarm system. Track lighting is well underway. The

Volunteer Projects

Jaycob Turner is one of the USMC's newest Staff Sergeants, Congratulations! He has recently researched and wrote three new wall panels.

Staci Langston is continuing to help from Kansas, recently doing all the work on two new wall panels.

Harry Shappell completed leveling the elevation of the Dahlgren & Rodman in front of the museum and fixed the incorrectly attached leg on the German recoilless gun in Artillery Park.

The proof reading team of O'Dell McGuire, Bill Baab, Karen and Katie Blaker continue to repair what I write.

Lynden Couvillion giving a basic trainee tour

Lynden Couvillion, Amy Ward, Jeff Nester and Frank Siltman continue to help with the growing number of Soldier and other tours.

Mark Megehee, our Revolutionary War Soldier for school groups has departed for Phoenix. Best wishes, Mark.

John Rogers travelled to Cincinnati to bring back a collection of artillery toys and books. Enroute he stopped by Louisville to acquire a variety of dummy artillery propellant charges.

Becky Coffield, now in Virginia has been helping with several of our new wall panels.
